If you knew animals were being abused, could you rest in peace?

Sadly, throughout their lives, the last thing many animals experience is peace. Pepe the spider monkey, for example, was chained by his neck and imprisoned in a circus. They snapped off his canine teeth and kept him in isolation.

He was one of the lucky ones because he was rescued by Animal Defenders International (ADI). He can now live in peace with his own kind. ADI is a major international force in animal protection.

Please help us to help other animals like Pepe to live in peace by making a bequest today to Animal Defenders International.

Help Finance An Evolution

Will you leave a lasting legacy of compassion and help scientific advancement? The Lord Dowding Fund finances scientific and medical research without the use of animals. We believe that cruel animal techniques have no place in 21st century science.

We have supported major advances in many fields including neuroscience, cancer research, and safety testing – we developed a humane British Standard Test for the toxicity of dental fillings. Your legacy could help save the lives of animals and advance scientific research.

Help finance an evolution in medical science and leave a lasting legacy, with a bequest today to the:

Helping Artists Thrive

Artists Futures Fund (AFF) is an established and well-respected funder of individual artists in need. Operating under a Royal Charter since 1827, and founded by a group of philanthropists, AFF is proud to have served the UK's artists' community for over 200 years.

Today, we support talented individuals to overcome significant socio-economic, physical and mental health barriers that would prevent them from pursuing careers as artists.

Our core mission is to open doors to diverse and exciting futures in the arts.

We believe that in a period of financial constraint, protecting artistic talent is an investment in the UK's creative future. We are actively seeking donations so we can expand our support for talented artists in need.

Caring for those that care

A gift in your will to The Ripple Pond ensures that those caring for loved ones with injuries sustained in the Armed Forces continue to be seen, heard and supported. Because families also serve.

A gift in your will to The Ripple Pond is more than a donation. It's a lifeline for those who stand beside the UK's injured heroes. You've spent your life standing up for what matters, just as Claire's husband did when he joined the British Military at the age of 16. He served on tours in Iraq and Afghanistan at the height of the conflicts, witnessing sights many of us can't even begin to imagine. Sights that changed him; flashbacks, night terrors, and a declining mental health took over, the horrors of war that had been distant and far, became a part of the memories that lived in their home. Sights that led to Claire juggling the demands of a young family, her work, and a war she experienced by proxy, an aftermath that continued not for a week or a month, but over the course of their life, year after year.

You see, behind every serving person or veteran is a family that still "serves". Children grow up too fast, learning what PTSD is before they understand multiplication. Families and friends become carers, nurses and lifelines, learning about military trauma, PTSD, moral injury, managing sleepless nights, medications, suicidal ideation, and mental health crisis, all the while holding the family together.

Once conflicts end, societies move on, but families don't. They continue to fight; for appointments, personal stability, momentary tranquillity amid fractured lives. The Ripple Pond advocates for the families, ensuring that the people caring for injured loved ones are seen, heard and supported. Claire's story is one of many, each different and yet each the same.

We offer adults like Claire who are looking after loved ones with service attributable injuries a safe place, a community of like-minded individuals who understand what it's like to walk on eggshells, unsure when or where the trauma will next surface, but committed to helping their loved ones recover. We listen and support, we give them resources, events and workshops to equip them in their journey and one to one support in times of intense struggle.

It's not just partners that care for our injured heroes. We hear time and time again of parents looking after their grown-up children when they return from conflict. Parents like John and Janet who care for their son who has complex PTSD.

You may never meet the families you help, but they will never forget you. Your gift could be a lifesaver for a military family in need of love and support. As our members have said:

"The Ripple Pond has given me confidence and a belief in myself again, a place to be heard without fear of judgement and a place where practical help is available. I can be me, not a carer or a wife of, I come first."

"I was so confused, frightened, lonely and then I found this amazing community that helped me understand, and feel understood."

Every legacy gift fuels:

Peer Support Groups

Regional groups offer acceptance and shared insight. These spaces hold no judgment, just people local to you who understand.

One-to-One Emotional & Practical Support

Trained staff help carers navigate wellbeing, medical systems, and crisis planning.

Workshops & Events

From managing stress and anxiety to sleep management, carers get equipped with actionable tools.

Support with Employment

Through our partnerships, we can provide support and build confidence around re-accessing employment, whenever our beneficiaries are ready.

Tailored Resources & Referrals

To mental-health professionals, legal aid, and other vital services.

Your gift will create a ripple effect in this often unnoticed and under-supported community.

John and Janet's Story

Seen | Heard | Supported

We knew our son was in trouble whilst he was in the Army, and tried to get Army welfare involved. We were told that they could only help if our son approached them directly, otherwise they weren't able to do anything. The problem with that is that our son would never have reached out for help, because he didn't see that there was anything wrong with him. He's been sectioned several times now and, despite him sometimes saying that he's glad he was sectioned, he still doesn't see that there's anything wrong.

We had to watch him deteriorate, and see his relationship fall apart, and we weren't able to find any information or get any help. We felt completely powerless as parents, and that had a big impact on both of us, both emotionally and on our relationship.

We called RBL to see if they could offer us support, and they signposted us to The Ripple Pond. That initial call with the team was the first time we had felt listened to, and we've felt supported ever since. All of a sudden, we didn't feel like we were the only parents in our situation, it wasn't just us up against the world.

“That initial call with the team was the first time we had felt listened to, and we've felt supported ever since. All of a sudden, we didn't feel like we were the only parents in our situation, it wasn't just us up against the world.”

Realising that we weren't alone helped to shift the focus with our son too, and everything became different.

It can be heard for other people to understand that the issues can feel so different for parents – even though he isn't living with us day to day, our son will always be our child. Although we have a good relationship with him, and we see him regularly, the worry doesn't ever disappear.

It has been so helpful to see other members' stories, and to be able to take a little bit away from each one. We mainly use the parents' WhatsApp group, because we don't use Facebook, but we don't often tend to get actively involved with the chats. As parents, we feel that our focus is more on sorting out our son and his issues; but we do discuss what we've seen between ourselves, and we'll always reach out and offer support to anyone who is struggling.

Up until joining TRP, we had felt isolated and alone. Finding an outlet where we feel listened to and heard has been a saviour.

Leave a Legacy of Lifelong Support

A gift in your will to The Ripple Pond is more than a donation; it's a lifeline for families standing beside the UK's injured service members and veterans. People like Claire, whose husband joined the British Military at 16 and served in Iraq and Afghanistan. He returned changed; haunted by flashbacks, night terrors, and declining mental health. Claire, like many, became both carer and anchor, juggling work, parenting, and the invisible wounds of war.

Behind every veteran is a family that also serves. Children grow up learning about PTSD before they've mastered multiplication. Partners become carers, advocates, and crisis responders, often without support or recognition. Though wars may end, the struggle for stability continues at home.

The Ripple Pond exists for people like Claire. We provide a safe, understanding community; a space where families can share, learn, and heal together. Through one-to-one support, resources, workshops, and events, we walk alongside them, ensuring they're never alone.

Your legacy could change lives. Though you may never meet the families you help, your gift will make a difference.

is the busiest wildlife hospital in the world

Not only do we treat more hedgehogs than any other wildlife hospital, but our caring team saves lives every single day. Our aim is simple; to treat all injured British wild birds and animals, then return them to the wild. Like Rudolph, who arrived badly injured at just five days old. The road accident that killed his mother left him with three badly broken legs. Our specialist care saved this poor little deer from suffering and he is now facing a brighter future. But it is only with your support that we can help casualties like Rudolph, so please remember Tiggywinkles when making your Will.

Our dear late friend Dame Thora Hird was an ardent supporter of our work. She actively encouraged others to help us secure funding for our lifesaving work to continue. Your legacy will ensure helps is always at hand for all British wildlife; in Dame Thora's own words,

If you believe in reincarnation there are some animals you wouldn't want to be

Imagine a life of imprisonment in a cramped cage and being the subject of constant experimentation; a lifetime of suffering followed by a painful death. That's the cruel and futile fate suffered by millions of laboratory animals in the name of research.

The National Anti-Vivisection Society (NAVS) is the world's premier and leading group, working for an end to the suffering of animals in laboratories.

Working within the law, we lobby Parliament, produce scientific reports, educational materials and videos; conduct undercover investigations and expose law breaking. We fund non-animal scientific and medical research.

Animal Defenders International (ADI) works worldwide to protect animals and the environment. Our investigations of wildlife trafficking, animals in circuses, animal experimentation and more drive awareness, education, legislation, and prosecutions.

ADI offers practical solutions, like advanced techniques to replace animals in research, and support for governments enforcing animal protection laws, such as bans on animal circuses – in Bolivia, Colombia, Peru and Guatemala, ADI tracked down and rescued every circus animal including bears, monkeys, lions, and tigers.

Many of these lions and tigers now enjoy natural habitats at the ADI Wildlife Sanctuary, South Africa and we have supported sanctuaries in Latin America, USA and Europe.

Medical research and welfare

The Trust was set up in 1994 by people with diabetes for people with diabetes. We offer support and understanding to those with diabetes and their families. We provide a free telephone listening service and information leaflets to enable people with diabetes to have an informed choice of treatment and to help with the day to day difficulties of living with diabetes.

Around three quarters of a million people in the UK have insulin requiring diabetes and the incidence of diabetes in children is increasing. It is essential that we support research to help this very vulnerable group faced with a lifetime of diabetes. Your support will enable us to further develop our programme to help children and provide information for teachers about the needs of children with diabetes.

Diabetes can cause blindness, kidney failure, nerve damage and heart attack that severely affect the lives of all those living with diabetes. A cure for diabetes is still illusive so the Trust supports research that will help to improve the daily lives of people living with diabetes now. The studies we support involve people with diabetes under normal treatment conditions to ensure that it reflects 'real life' conditions. We also collate information from the experiences of people with diabetes to help to inform others.

We collect unused, in-date insulin to send to clinics in developing countries where people die for lack of affordable insulin. Please help us to continue our work, making cheques payable to 'Diabetes Trust Research and Care Fund'.

Animals and birds

Redwings believes that every horse, pony, donkey and mule has the right to a happy and healthy life, free of fear and neglect.

The 100% publicly funded charity rescues neglected and abandoned horses from all over the country, giving them a safe place to live for the rest of their days, and is currently home to over 1,500 – making Redwings the UK's largest horse sanctuary.

As well as providing a place of sanctuary to rescued horses, Redwings has five visitor centres in England and Scotland that enable supporters to see how their kind donations really can make a difference to horses and donkeys in need.

Redwings' Aylsham Visitor Centre in North Norfolk was funded by the gifts people had left in their Wills and has been vital in enabling the charity to continue to provide homes for the increasing number of abandoned horses in desperate need of love and care.

Gifts in Wills make up the largest proportion of Redwings' income and the charity simply wouldn't be able to exist without them. Remembering Redwings Horse Sanctuary in your Will is a wonderful way to support the charity's work and leave a lasting legacy that will help them to help horses and donkeys for generations to come. Whether your gift is large or small, every donation makes a real difference to the future of Redwings' residents.

Animals and birds / Conservation / Education

Here at Tiggywinkles, we are dedicated to rescuing and rehabilitating British wildlife. We are open 24hrs a day, 7 days a week to help any wild animal in need and our service is free of charge. We rely on donations to provide our life-saving care for patients like Robbie the robin, who arrived in our care under unusual circumstances!

As the World's leading teaching wildlife hospital, we have lots of students on site and one of our Level Two Animal Care students found Robbie on the pathway of our grounds. She immediately realised he needed help as he was lying flat and couldn't fly. She rushed him into triage and our duty nurse quickly assessed his condition.

Sadly, Robbie was suffering from temporary ataxia – the loss of coordination and control of movement – and the team suspected he had sustained head trauma. To treat his symptoms, our vet put Robbie on a short course of antibiotics and pain relief. After one week of treatment, Robbie was once again flying around his cage and was ready for release.

We are so happy that we could help this beautiful bird back to the wild and although we never want any wild animal to find itself in trouble, it is nice to think that they know where to come, should they ever need help! Our doors are always open to any wild animal in need, even walk-ins!

To help us care for patients like Robbie, please consider donating. We receive no government or lottery funding, so we need your help – every penny helps us help them!
